

Bleed Green

Installed a compressor in the reservoir tank of pressure vessel and also a new pneumatic pipeline with 5 different valves to operate due to which carbon particle generation decreases.

Trailblazer

To sustain organization in market a continuous development across new product variant is required. An attempt is made to penetrate and develop "Rice Packaging" segment. This being unique than conventional Atta like packaging where "Rice Packaging" require enough resistance, improved bursting strength and has better drop test compliance. Also it requires to work with higher category of material structure than conventionally being used.

"Kanyaka Joha Rice" packaging designed and develop by MIPL meets all such product characteristics and requirements.

Beacon
